This app does not collect any data other than default anonymous statistical usage and crash data, as any Android app does.

The app can store the game situation, as far as we know only locally, on the phone, and the game situation can be loaded.

We don't expect to have to update the privacy policy, but feel free to inform us if you see a reasons for this.

Usage is at own risk. (Even though it's a old-school and family-friendly app, and hence we don't see risks.)

Please avoid gaming addiction, and don't forget to have fun!
